Dear Harry:

Re: No. 70-267 - NLRB v. Scrivener

On February fifth I joined your Memorandum circulated February fourth.
So when you recirculated it on February tenth as an Opinion of the Court, I did not think it was necessary for me to join you again.

[February —, 1972]

Memorandum of Mr. JUSTICE BLACKMUN.

Section 8 of the National Labor Relations Act, as amended, 61 Stat. 140-141, 29 U. S. C. § 158, provides:

"Sec. 8. (a) It shall be an unfair labor practice for an employer—

"(1) to interfere with, restrain, or coerce employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in section 7;

"(4) to discharge or otherwise discriminate against an employee because he has filed charges or given testimony under this Act."

Section 7 of the Act, as amended, 61 Stat. 140, 29 U. S. C. § 157, provides:

"Sec. 7. Employees shall have the right to self-organization, to form, join, or assist labor organizations, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and to engage in other concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection"

This case presents the issue whether an employer's retaliatory discharge of an employee who gave a written

Re: No. 70-267 - NLRB v. Scrivener

Dear Bill:

Thanks for your note of February 16. I was not waiting for a second letter. My problem was that we have no record here of ever having received your note of February 5. It, of course, may have gone astray somewhere. In any event, our records are now complete.

Sincerely,

H.A.B.
